Life360, Inc. (ASX:360) today announced a milestone quarter for the company surpassing 1 million subscribers (Paying Circles), $100 million in Annualized Monthly Revenue, and the company crossed the $1B market valuation on strong share price growth. Life360 also announced the signing of definitive agreements for the acquisition of Jibit, the Chicago-based provider of wearable location devices, strengthening the company's position as the leading family safety platform and accelerating its entrance into new markets, namely children under ten, small pets, and seniors.

"The last 18 months have shed a bright light on the need for family safety. Our confidence that a COVID recovery would drive a return to significant growth is being borne out in these needs," said Chris Hulls, founder and CEO of Life360. "This incredible growth is a clear indicator that our expanded product offerings and move to a membership model are resonating with families around the world and strengthens our belief that our product roadmap and funding path were the right decisions for our company."

In addition to the financial milestones, Life360 also reached No. 1 in the App Store charts in more than 11 countries during the last quarter. Driven by a viral surge in downloads from teens primarily through TikTok, Life360 delivered a record quarter of Monthly Active Users (MAU) ending the quarter with 32.3 million.

"The turnaround we've had with our teen community is nothing short of amazing," continued Hulls. "It was risky, but listening, engaging and working with this community to help shape the technology is paying off in spades."
